MDM&C Continues to Expand Firm's Capability in Healthcare Law

Recent professional additions designed to address the healthcare industry's rapidly changing landscape of delivery systems, regulation and reimbursement.

MORRISTOWN, NJ – April 8, 2015 – McElroy, Deutsch, Mulvaney & Carpenter, LLP (“MDM&C” or “the Firm”), today announced its continued commitment to building the Firm’s capability in healthcare law, demonstrated by the recent addition of two attorneys to its healthcare practice group, and its intention to maintain a leadership role in helping providers of all types to adapt and benefit from the evolution of the healthcare industry.

Last fall, Neil M. Sullivan joined the Firm as a Partner, after serving as Assistant Commissioner at the New Jersey Department of Banking and Insurance (DOBI), in-house counsel at New Jersey’s largest health insurer, General Counsel for a community hospital, and Director of Group Contracts for New Jersey’s largest life insurer. Sullivan ranked among the top 15 in NJBIZ’s annual Power 50 in Healthcare in each of 2012, 2013, and 2014.

Earlier this month, Glenn P. Prives joined the Firm’s healthcare practice as an Associate, following his tenure at two well-known New Jersey-based law firms, where he established a reputation within the healthcare community for his work across a range of healthcare transactional and regulatory matters.

These two seasoned professionals join eleven other highly regarded attorneys who have worked to establish the Firm’s reputation as a premier healthcare legal practice in New Jersey and the tri-state region. According to the Firm’s managing partner, Edward B. Deutsch, “We will continue to build our professional capabilities to address the rapidly changing landscape of the healthcare industry, as it explores new integrated delivery systems, and works to address greater regulatory and reimbursement challenges.”

In October, MDM&C played a thought leadership role in addressing those critical issues at an industry conference the Firm designed and hosted for senior healthcare professionals, together with co-sponsors The New Jersey Hospital Association, The Medical Society of New Jersey, and the New Jersey Chapter of the Healthcare Financial Management Association.

James A. Robertson, who heads up the Firm's healthcare practice group, noted that MDM&C's professional depth in healthcare and life sciences also includes several other attorneys at the Firm with decades of experience in complex corporate, transactional and litigation matters.
