MDM&C Expands Coverage in Northeast Region; Opens Office in Providence, Rhode Island

*Accomplished Rhode Island Attorney, Paul E. Dwyer, Joins as Partner
To Open Firm's 14th, and Newest Location*

MORRISTOWN, NJ – February 12, 2018 – McElroy, Deutsch, Mulvaney & Carpenter, LLP (“MDM&C” or “the Firm”) today announced the opening of an office in Providence, Rhode Island, further expanding into the Northeast region, and bringing the Firm’s total number of physical locations to 14, in 9 states including New Jersey, New York, Colorado, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Delaware, Florida, and now Rhode Island.

The Firm also announced that the initial member of its Providence office is Paul E. Dwyer, Esq., who has joined MDM&C as a partner. Mr. Dwyer has extensive experience in defending both corporate clients and individual healthcare professionals throughout the United States in malpractice, products liability, general liability and consumer protection cases, as well as regulatory matters.

Over the course of his 30-year legal career, Mr. Dwyer has directed the national litigation management team for a Fortune 20 pharmacy chain; served as New England regional counsel for several corporate clients in asbestos litigation; tried numerous products liability personal injury and wrongful death cases; and represented insurers in coverage disputes in federal and state courts, and before the Rhode Island Supreme Court.

“Our Providence office,” according to Managing Partner, Edward B. Deutsch, “will provide New England’s 3rd most populous city with access to MDM&C’s nearly 300 attorneys, and our deep expertise across a broad range of industries. We are very bullish on Rhode Island as a place to do business, and as a graduate of the University of Rhode Island, I have a first-hand appreciation of the Ocean State. We also believe Paul Dwyer has the local knowledge and relationships necessary to succeed in the state.”

Mr. Dwyer graduated magna cum laude from Providence College in 1985, and received his Juris Doctorate, cum laude, from Boston University School of Law in 1988. He is member of the Bar Associations of Rhode Island and Massachusetts, and is admitted to practice law in those two states as well as New York and Connecticut. Mr. Dwyer is also AV rated by Martindale-Hubbe, its highest level of professional excellence and a Preeminent Lawyer for 2018.
