

CANNABIS

Recognizing the significant impact that the legalization of cannabis will have on multiple sectors, MDM&C has taken a measured approach in entering the cannabis market. Attorneys in our Cannabis Practice group have the requisite credentials, industry “know-how” and most importantly, integrity to provide the best possible representation to cannabis cultivators, manufacturers, distributors and investors, and all others seeking to participate in the cannabis marketplace.

We are a multi-disciplinary practice group comprised of industry insiders and advisors who possess extensive experience assisting governmental officials not only in developing legislative strategic plans but in drafting legislation that has had and will continue to have an impact on the industry. In that context, MDM&C’s Cannabis Group is uniquely positioned to offer the best representation to our clients in navigating regulations in the ever-changing cannabis environment.
