

INSURANCE SERVICES

Attorneys in MDM&C's Litigation & Insurance Services Group have represented clients in all facets of insurance law. Clients trust MDM&C to represent them in high-exposure and other significant coverage litigation. Our experience includes managing all manner of claims, from single-policy, single-claimant matters to multi-billion dollar, multi-jurisdictional coverage disputes involving many scores of parties.

MDM&C litigators are highly experienced in the defense of insureds and self-insureds in cases involving high exposure claims in the following areas: construction defects; mass torts; personal injury; premises liability; product liability; and professional liability. We also have considerable experience defending employment suits alleging hostile work environment and discrimination.

In the context of Insurance Coverage Litigation, our attorneys have been national or regional counsel for several of the world's largest carriers in nearly every type of coverage dispute. We also represent clients in myriad bad faith and extra-contractual actions, often serving as counsel in the most difficult and complex claims.

The extensive experience of MDM&C's attorneys in the area of insurance, bad faith includes all litigated and non-litigated matters. Our lawyers have tried such matters to verdict and litigated cutting-edge legal issues that have helped shape this sensitive and complex area of law. The experience gained through their extensive litigation practice also enables MDM&C to offer consultation services to our insurance clients. Indeed, MDM&C has developed a reputation as a leader in this important area of law.

Ultimately, the depth and range of MDM&C's Litigation & Insurance Services practice enables us to handle even the most sophisticated insurance disputes seamlessly and efficiently.
