Overview

Curriculum Vitae

MARC J. ADELSON received his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1968 from Brooklyn College and his Juris Doctorate, cum laude, in 1972 from Brooklyn Law School, where he was Editor-in-Chief of the Brooklyn Law Review. He began his legal career as law clerk to The Honorable Lee P. Gagliardi, United States District Judge for the Southern District of New York.

Prior to becoming Of Counsel with McElroy Deutsch in September 2005, Mr. Adelson was a member of the New York City law firms of Davis & Cox and Jacobs Persinger & Parker. Mr. Adelson has extensive experience in the fields of corporate acquisitions, divestitures and financing, and he has devoted a substantial portion of his practice to commercial real estate leasing and related transactions.

He also has significant experience in the formation and operation of private investment entities and the design and implementation of executive compensation plans.
