White Collar Criminal Defense

Defense of individuals and corporations under investigation by the Department of Justice or other governmental agencies.

In an age in which white collar criminal investigations and prosecutions are splattered on newspapers' front pages, finding effective defense counsel is paramount. McElroy Deutsch is noted for its proficient defense of individuals and corporations under investigation by the Department of Justice or other governmental agencies.

McElroy Deutsch houses litigators who were previously with the government as prosecutors or lawyers. As a result of their background and their aggressive representation, McElroy Deutsch's white-collar criminal defense lawyers have been successful in keeping many of their clients from being charged and in avoiding publicity about investigations. When unable to resolve such matters quietly, we have vigorously defended our clients at trial.

The Firm's white-collar lawyers have represented individuals and companies in a vast array of criminal matters, including public corruption, health care, environmental, tax, banking, bribery, false claims, food and drug, campaign finance, ERISA, labor relations, RICO, trade secrets, perjury, false statements, obstruction of justice, money laundering, mail and wire fraud, and conspiracy.

In the context of pharmaceutical litigation, our white-collar crime lawyers have defended and prosecuted commercial actions regarding improper billing practices, antitrust allegations, and wholesale pricing of drugs.

The Firm's white-collar lawyers have represented national and international corporations, American and foreign nationals, executives, and professionals in a wide range of criminal and near-criminal cases. Our attorneys have conducted independent internal investigations, developed and instituted corporate compliance programs and as a result often have kept our clients from severe government sanctions and charges.

Our white-collar criminal defense lawyers are united in their belief that their hard work and clever strategies are often the difference between our clients maintaining or losing their liberty. That understanding causes them to work diligently and aggressively on their clients' behalf.

Representative Case

- Acted as Amicus on a case for the Association of Criminal Defense Attorneys of NJ, involving a prosecutor's office's use of body wires on a paid informant who was an anticipated trial witness for the State in a narcotics case. The wire was used to secretly monitor and record a criminal defense attorney's pre-trial interview of that informant.
