McElroy Deutsch

Product Liability

Experienced counsel for product liability and defective product matters

McElroy Deutsch's experienced product liability lawyers provide counsel on a broad range of product liability matters. Our attorneys routinely represent product liability clients in mass tort litigation, and we are well versed in the management of multi-district litigation (MDLs).

In concert with our law firm's extensive litigation practices, our product liability attorneys have successfully defended against class action and single-plantiff lawsuits involving alleged defective medical devices, construction products, automotive products, and other consumer products.

Our product liability law expertise extends to representing several pharmaceutical companies in litigation involving claims of personal injury and wrongful death due to alleged defective pharmaceutical products.

Representative Cases

Results may vary depending on your particular facts and legal circumstances.

- Cangelosi v. Saddle Brook Amoco, Inc. Represented service station owner in a products liability action arising from the alleged failure of an air-pressure gauge on a tire inflator that plaintiffs claimed caused catastrophic injuries to service station patron.

- Sinclair v. Derricks Sheet Metal Works, Inc. Represented machine component manufacturer in product liability matter involving catastrophic bodily injury. Dismissed on summary judgment based on net opinion of plaintiff's expert.
